

COVID-19 TESTING TESTIMONIALS

“In situ office testing was quick, smooth and efficient and gave us a useful Covid-19 benchmark from which we were able to apply our new Covid-19 workplace protocols. A useful way of showing diligence and introducing confidence to the workforce.”

Andy Sturt - Managing Director, VIP SKI

“Attending G&N's COVID antibody testing day was a very eye opening experience. It was a quick and simple testing process undertaken by a healthcare professional and I had my results in minutes!

It is clear to me that the G&N testing service is the way forward for companies to instill reassurance and confidence into their employees that it is safe to return to the workplace. The efficiency of the service will allow for large numbers of staff to receive tests with on the spot results that can ensure the safety of an entire workforce, all in one day.

As the Visage chair I will be recommending this service in our upcoming board meetings to other industry leaders as a solution to the challenges brought on by covid-19. Monthly antibody testing will streamline the process of bringing staff back to work and is a great advancement for both employers and employees.”

Ben – Chair, Visage

“I can really see the benefits of the new SARS-CoV-2 testing service to employers wanting to encourage employees back into the workplace. The test itself is quick and easy and only takes a few minutes. Obtaining the results on the spot can immediately reassure the employee and their colleagues as to who is safe to return. Retesting can then take place on an ongoing basis once staff are back at work. This is a great advancement for employers. I'll certainly be recommending it to our clients.”

Joanna Atkinson - Director/Solicitor, JMA HR & Legal

“Just come back from my antibody test at G+N Medical, thanks to Emma Simpson. I was really impressed - a pinprick blood test and results straight away. I have immunity to COVID 19, which is interesting as I caught the bug in March. In my case immunity has lasted longer than three months. After talking with the team there, I could see that if you want to create some confidence in your team, getting antibody tests done is a good idea. Monthly tests where someone comes to you and does all the team - gives you peace of mind that you know who is more vulnerable, and enables you to think about scheduling shift work, considering who works in high contact roles, etc.

Also, interesting to use a testing service for inviting in your clients for their individual tests to get a conversation going with them again as the economy starts to turn. They get a test result, you get to talk to them about their world, and you may even end up being able to shake hands on the way out...

Get in contact with them if you are interested. They send out someone to anywhere in the UK.”

Carol Foussat – Cranfield Management School Programme Leader

“Thank you for the invitation to the anti-body testing day at your offices. Having my finger prick test undertaken by a registered nurse and finding out my results in a few minutes has given me peace of mind and reassurance as we start to move back towards a sense of normality in these chaotic times.

The experience highlighted the opportunity for Savannah Group and our clients. We specialise in executive recruitment and the sooner we can give our staff and our clients the confidence to return to office working, the quicker we are likely to recover.

We see clear benefits in office working and we are now assessing how we can use this testing service to accelerate our return to work and also how we might use ongoing testing as part of our HR responsibilities and operational planning in future. I would highly recommend others to contact G&N for this testing service, not only to get your workforce back to normal operations but also for the peace of mind and wellbeing of your employees.”

John Ellis – Chief Executive, Savannah
